Abstract (in English)

Each contribution, whatever language it is written in, must begin with an English abstract. It has to appear first under the header “Abstract”, typed in Times bold 12 pt, centered. The content of the abstract is typed into Times 10 pt. There are neither vertical space nor indentation of paragraphs in the abstract body.

If the paper is written in another language than English, a second abstract in the corresponding language must appear just after the English abstract. Use the proper header for that language. The formatting of this second abstract is the same as for the English one. Here in the following, there is an example in French

Keywords: a set of keywords written in Times 10 pt.

Other Abstract (in French, Italian, Spanish)

Nous avons donc ici un résumé en français. Les mêmes règles que pour le résumé anglais s’appliquent. Si ce n’est l’intitulé qui, pour le français, doit être «Résumé».
